

Are you passionate about developing teachers to be the best they can be?

Do you have a drive that is infectious?

Do you want to have a lasting impact on pupils, teachers and leaders?

If so, we have an opportunity for you!

Your opportunity to facilitate excellent professional learning in your local area

ucl.ac.uk/ioe/ecf-npq-facilitators
exchangeteachinghub.org.uk

Exchange Teaching Hub

Exchange Teaching Hub in partnership with the UCL Centre for Educational Leadership at the IOE, UCL's Faculty of Education and Society – the world's leading school of education¹ - is recruiting facilitators to support the delivery of its Early Career Framework (ECF) and National Professional Qualification (NPQ) programmes across Barnsley, Doncaster, Selby and Wakefield and the wider area.

We are searching for enthusiastic, experienced leaders of people to facilitate professional learning for teachers at the start of their careers, and for school staff wanting to develop their leadership capacities.

You will be an established teacher or leader, have a deep desire to support other people's development, and be ready to inspire excellence in and beyond the classroom. You will also be curious about how supporting other people's learning can enhance your own practice, and the success of your school.

You will use your expertise to contextualise learning locally, reflecting the needs of pupils, teachers and leaders in your area to ensure maximum local engagement with, and impact from, the ECF and NPQ programmes.

Whether you have extensive experience of leading professional learning for school staff or have dipped your toe in and want to expand your skills and knowledge, we would like to hear from you. Our excellent facilitator induction and development programme will support you to shine in the role regardless of your starting point, allowing you not just to excel with ECF and NPQ participants, but enabling you to deliver the highest quality CPD in your own setting and to develop new skills.

Developing teachers and leaders to be their best is a hugely fulfilling role, professionally and personally. Think about the colleagues who have helped you to be a successful practitioner; now it's time for you to support colleagues to fulfil their potential and provide excellent teaching and learning to every pupil they meet.

We also want to ensure that our facilitators embody the range of experiences and knowledge in today's vibrant education sector, and who represent the contemporary pupil population. We actively encourage applicants who can bring diversity of thought and experience to the facilitation of our programmes.

To find out more about the role, what we're looking for in you, and what you can expect from us, use the QR code to access our online resources.

When you're ready, go to www.exchangeteachinghub.org.uk/apply-to-be-a-facilitator to complete an application form and get started on your journey to becoming an expert facilitator.

If you have any questions about the role or how your experience may relate, contact Nicola.williams@exchangeteachinghub.org.uk or Michelle.Kelly@exchangeteachinghub.org.uk

¹ Number one in education in the QS World University Rankings since 2014.